Our Board of Directors has resolved to initiate preparatory and evaluation studies regarding the potential sale of real estate properties owned by our Company that are currently not used in our operations or are not expected to be needed in the future in line with ongoing plans, with the aim of ensuring effective asset management and optimizing resource utilization. Within this scope, the legal, technical, financial and tax-related aspects of the properties, as well as their suitability for sale, will be examined, and alternatives regarding potential sale methods, terms and timing will be evaluated.

At this stage, no final decision has been made regarding the sale of any real estate property. Upon completion of the studies, the Board of Directors will separately decide whether the properties will be sold and, if a sale is approved, determine its scope, method, sale price and other terms and conditions.
